Observations... From Around Town

(BY JAY WHOZIT)

This week the Girl Scouts of America are celebrating their thirty-fifth anniversary. "Beware the Ides of March," tomorrow, the 15th... can it be possible that the Romans of the Middle Ages had to pay income taxes by March 15th? ... tonight, at Bay High Gym, the Bay High mittmen meet the White Sox boxing team... St. Stanislaus Band will give a concert on Monday night at St. Joseph auditorium, in preparation for their return concert in Columbia on March 20th... Monday, is March 17th, the Feast of St. Patrick, the patron Saint of Ireland, be sure all you Irishmen wear your green neckties... dates for the Little Theater's first production of 1947, "Angel Street," have been set for Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, March 27, 28, and 29... Mr. and Mrs. Gaspar Maurigl will celebrate the Feast of St. Joseph, Wednesday, March 19th, for the twenty-seventh consecutive year, and invite the public to attend... On March 20, 21, and 22, thousands of Mississippi teachers will gather for the 61st annual convention of the Mississippi Education Association, to be held at the Edwards Hotel in Jackson... their theme will be "Education—A Major Enterprise... did you know?... the modern word bonfire is taken from bone fire descriptive of the funeral pyres of the Middle Ages... we welcome to our town as a resident, Mr. John J. Keller, who has retired after 39 years of service with the United Fruit Company, in New York and New Orleans... veterans desiring information about unemployment or disability compensation, insurance, among other things, read the questions and answers under the heading "Veterans News," published weekly in this paper... Slim Gilmore, your genial Chrysler and Plymouth dealer, has moved his place of business from the beach and is now located on Highway 90 and Dunbar Avenue... the Memphis baseball team will play its first exhibition game here against the St. Paul team of the American Association on Wednesday, March 19th, and another on Sunday, March 23rd, against Birmingham... On April 23-24 the Brothers of the Sacred Heart will stage a celebration in Mobile, Ala., commemorating one hundred years of service in the United States... they are now in their ninety-fourth year in Bay St. Louis... we wonder where our Representative, Mr. Francis (Goat) Lee, was when the vote on the Black Market Tax came up in the Legislature on Tuesday, we notice his vote was not recorded FOR or AGAINST... get off the fence, Goat, you have to be on one side of the other... folks admire a public officer who at least has the courage to vote or express his convictions—particularly a representative in the Legislature... while we are hoping that the clean-up campaign will get started some time soon, it may not be amiss to offer a suggestion that an incinerator be built in order that the garbage may be burned instead of being spread helter-skelter, on other peoples' property and even in our streets... an editorial in the New Orleans Item of March 10th, commends Mr. Lester F. Alexander for "His persistent efforts in behalf of a ship channel for the port of New Orleans..." Mr. Alexander is a part-time resident and property owner of Hancock County, and we are proud to claim him as such.

MORE COMMENTS ON ELECTRIC POWER FRANCHISE

706 Hancock Street
Bay St. Louis, Miss.
March 12, 1947

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

I am grateful to you for offering space to both sides in the controversy over the Mississippi Power Company franchise. Nothing could be fairer. Let the people have all the facts and I am sure they will vote right on March 25.

I am still searching for facts. What I have already found convinces me that we should vote against the new 25-year franchise which the Mayor and Commission Council granted to the Power Company. And let me say, I have no axe to grind. I have no aluminum, "cheese" or anything else to sell to the Power Company.

Nobody seems to know why we should renew the franchise seven years before the old one expires. I have asked many people. The only advantage seems to be the 2 per cent cut of the gross electric revenue which the city is to get. That will be about $1800 a year, one city official has estimated.

One person said maybe the Power Company is getting ready to do a lot of building around here and needs the 25-year franchise early just for good insurance. If so, why don't they tell us all about such things?

Here are some facts that I have gathered since last week:

For years the City of West Point, Miss., bought electricity from the Mississippi Power Company, then resold it, at the same rates being charged in nearby towns, through their own distribution system and saved an average of $22,000 a year. Macon residents are now paying less than half the rates they used to pay to Mississippi Power Company. Their own distribution system showed a net profit of $10,152 last year above all costs and depreciation, and the city got $2691 in taxes, compared with $1671 it got from the Power Company.

Tupelo residents and business firms paid an average of 7½ cents per KWH to Mississippi Power Company the last year (1933) it operated there. Their average rate last year was 1 cent per KWH. Commercial consumption is sixty times what it was under Mississippi Power Company.

A friend in Booneville writes: "The rate is about half of what we used to pay, under the Power Co. We are highly pleased. Cheap electric energy in the home, in the country and small towns constitutes the hope of our state and nation."

The newspaper editor at Aberdeen says that since that city put in its own distribution system to replace the Mississippi Power Company, the average rates have gone down 56 per cent. The city gets double the amount of taxes, and more industries have come to town. He adds: "How any town or city eligible for cheap power can vote for the Power Company, even the best of private power companies is simply a mystery to me."

Well, I could add more, but I have taken enough space already.

J. Lewis Henderson.

"Expansion of physical plant facilities in the Bay St. Louis area have gone forward steadily since 1925 when Mississippi Power Company began operation here," said A. H. Gregory, Local Manager of the Company, today in commenting on the Company's new four year 11 million dollar construction goal recently announced.

"In 1925 there were only 495 electric customers in the Bay St. Louis system, served from a small isolated power plant and out grown distribution facilities. The Company immediately began a program of extending service and promoting more widespread use of electric conveniences and insofar as materials have been available this program has been continuously in effect, the greatly expanded system now serving more than 2,200 customers.

Early in the Company's operation it was necessary to completely rehabilitate the local distribution system and as use of electricity outgrew the small isolated power plant a high capacity transmission line was constructed at large expense, greatly increasing the City's available power supply.

"With the increasing use of power in the area a second source of supply to Bay St. Louis which will increase the amount of power available and minimize the frequency of service interruption is included in the company expansion program for Bay St. Louis," said Mr. Gregory.

This wartime material shortage situation created a large scale construction lag not only in Bay St. Louis but all over the company's system and has resulted in the large scale program ahead.

In view of the great expenditures projected for materials having a long life and which must be installed well in advance of actual need the Company is seeking new franchises in Bay St. Louis and the other incorporated communities it serves. Franchises identical to that adopted by

Circuit Court of Hancock County Convened Monday

The Circuit Court of Hancock County convened, on Monday morning, of this week with Judge L. C. Corban, presiding. The docket is very light and it is probable that the session will end this week.

The grand jury went into session on Monday morning, and adjourned on Tuesday at noon. Mr. Lamar Otis, was named the foreman of the Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury filed the following report:

March Term 1947
Circuit Court
State of Mississippi
County of Hancock
To Hon. L. C. Corban, Judge:

We, the Grand Jury beg leave to make this our formal report for this term of the Circuit Court of Hancock County.

We have been in session 2 days, we have examined 20 witnesses, we investigated 12 cases, and have returned 5 true bills.

We have examined the County Court House and County Jail. We find the County Court House to be well kept and clean, the offices of the various county officers appear to us to be well kept. We are not bookkeepers or accountants and are unable to report as to the accuracy of the keeping of the records. We find the County Jail to be well kept and in good order, except the toilets and wash basins are not clean, and we recommend that these be cleaned and kept in a sanitary condition.

And now having concluded our labors we ask to be discharged.

Respectfully submitted,
LAMAR OTIS, Foreman.

HANCOCK COUNTY P. M. A. OFFICE NEWS

Soybean producers are assured of at least $2.04 per bushel for their 1947 crop according to John S. Flora, County Administrative Officer. This price he explained, applies only to U. S. No. 2 beans of green or yellow varieties containing not over 14 percent moisture. Prices for brown, black and mixed varieties of the same grade will be supported at 1.84 per bushel, he said. This price support is carried out under instruction of Congress to the Secretary of Agriculture to support the price of soybeans along with most other farm products, at not less than 90 per cent of parity price for two years after the war. With present parity price of soybeans at $2.12 per bushel the announced support price is 96 percent of parity.

This support at more than the mandatory level is set with a view to encouraging increased production of soybeans. This crop is an important source of vegetable oils for which a great shortage now exists in this country. To meet estimated domestic requirements and exports in 1947-48, U. S. farmers have been asked to harvest 11,244,000 acres of soybeans, this year—an increase of 1,638,000 acres above 1946. In Mississippi, farmers are asked to increase from 64,000 acres in 1946 to 85,000 acres in 1947—an increase of 33 per cent.

Soybean prices will be supported by loans to farmers or direct purchases by the Government at support level.

Amateur Night Held For Benefit of Missions

To Again Celebrate Feast Of St. Joseph

Mr. and Mrs. Gaspar Maurigl, Sr. will again celebrate the Feast of St. Joseph, on Wednesday, March 19th, this being their 27th consecutive year. The public is invited to visit the altar and table starting from 5 p. m. Tuesday March 18th until 11:30 a. m. Wednesday, March 19th. The doors will reopen at 2:30 p. m. to distribute Blessed Bread, Blessed Luky Beans to the public.

The public is also invited to put candles and flowers on the Altar or anything else they so desire for their own intentions, with the exception of meat. The address is 312 St. John street. Anyone bringing flowers please do so anytime on the 18th, before 4 p. m. if possible.

The City Commission of Bay St. Louis have been granted by two-thirds of such communities since the program has been recently inaugurated.

In pointing out the growth in customers served from 495 to over 2,200, Mr. Gregory also noted that there have been substantial rate reductions over the period. The Company now receives an average of less than 34c per kilowatt-hour for residential electricity compared with 167c at rates in effect in Bay St. Louis before the Company began operations a decrease of 79%.

ST. STANISLAUS BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT

The Saint Stanislaus Band will present a concert on Monday, March 17, 8:00 p. m. in the auditorium of St. Joseph Academy. This will be the first public concert of the year by the Stanislaus Band.

There are forty-one members in this year's concert band. The program will include a variety of selections to suit the musical taste of the lovers of the classic, the semi-classic and the popular. The younger people will be greatly amused by the novelty numbers which were prepared mostly for their enjoyment.

Although the personnel of the band this year is not as large as that of last year's band, yet the quality of performance did not suffer and these young student musicians will give a very creditable rendition of the selections on next Monday night's program. May we recall here that for several years the Stanislaus Band was awarded a Superior Rating—the highest rating obtainable at the annual State Band Contests.

We would like to comment on the few numbers which, of themselves, we believe will be worth the price of admission: "Samsonian Polka," a bass solo with band accompaniment will be something that is seldom heard in a high school band program. The clarinet duet, "Merriment Polka," also with band accompaniment, is another feature number of distinction. Everyone will enjoy the drum quartet, "Listen to the Drummers Play," accompanied by the band. This is another type of selection which is seldom heard on a high school program. This number which is arranged to the tune of "Listen to the Mocking Bird" calls for a great deal of precision in coordinating the band with the percussionists. "Morning In The Music School," a very amusing novelty number, will offer plenty of laughs to the audience. Some of the band students sing while others play. In this number, every instrument of the band is featured and the percussion section uses everything from the bass drum to a cow bell.

Our band is presenting this concert as a preview to the program which it will give in Columbia on Thursday, March 20. We ask all the people of Bay St. Louis to support this program by purchasing tickets and attending the concert. The money realized from the admission will be used to help defray the expenses of our trip to Columbia.

The first birthday production of the Bay St. Louis Little Theater, Patrick Hamilton's "Angel Street" or "Gaslight," will be presented at the Carroll Avenue Playhouse on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, March 27th, 28th and 29th. This Victorian melodrama which has sent shivers down the spines of hundreds of audiences in England and America is familiar to American movie-goers as the film "Gaslight," starring Ingrid Bergman, Charles Boyer, and Joseph Cotten, and is our Little Theater's most ambitious work to date. Director Adaline Knoblock is highly pleased with her cast and prophesies that "Angel Street" will surely be a contender for one of the Oscars to be awarded by popular vote at the end of the 1947 theater season.

The five Little Theater members who form the cast for the play are as follows: Mrs. Rene de Montulzin, Jr., as Mrs. Manningham; Mr. John Barnett Wilson as Detective-Rough; Mrs. J. N. Horrocks as Nancy; and Mrs. A. O. Drescher as Elizabeth. This is the first play given by the Little Theater in which every member of the cast has had experience in dramatic work.

Memberships for the year are still available, and cards will be issued by Mr. Rene de Montulzin, Jr., upon receipt of the five-dollar membership fee. Members are requested to state which night they prefer for regular attendance.

Mrs. Maury is the only daughter of the late Colonel Paul D. Bunker, USCA, who, at the risk of his life, managed to save a scrap of the U. S. Flag before it touched the ground at Corregidor when the Japanese took possession. Colonel Bunker died in a Japanese prison camp on Formosa in May, 1943. ## Bay Saint Louis—Hancock County Library News

The library appears to have been dormant since it moved from its beach quarters but that is not wholly the situation. It is still serving the public. Though it misses many of its former patrons it welcomes its new readers.

Tuesdays mail brought the following new books for the library and an invitation is extended to all of the former and present readers to come in and read these: Belloc's "The Servile State," Buck's "The Pavillion of Women," Marquard's "B. F.'s Daughter," O'Hara's "Green Grass of Wyoming," Roberts' "Lydia Bailey," Punchon's "It Might Lead Anywhere," Steinbeck's "The Wayward Bus." There will be more but that was as much of the order placed that we received.

For your information the Library has Roger's "Thesaurus" and Kierman's New Almanac—the Information Please edition. These are for the Library use of the patrons and friends.

GUEST SPEAKER AT P. T. A. MEETING

Dr. Samuel T. Robbins, Jackson, director "Education for Responsible Parenthood" was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the local P. T. A. held at Bay High on Tuesday evening.

Dr. Robbins, was introduced by Mrs. C. C. McDonald, chairman of the program committee, and gave a pertinent message to parents on "Helping Our Children Grow Up." There was a warning note in his talk to parents that all education must have its birth and residence in the home and that is why parents must be educated. When parents understand they will understand their children. Dr. Robbins said.

He talked of health as the basis of character building, stressing also intellectual training in the school, spiritual training in the church but all training in the home, in our daily lives, in our business and in community life, clubs. "The best method of teaching your child is by Christian living" said Dr. Robbins.

Preceding this address the regular business session was held with Mrs. Albert Biehl, presiding. A motion was made and unanimously carried that a letter be written to the senator from this district saying that the P. T. A. stands for the repeal of the Black Market Law. Twenty-five dollars was donated to the Red Cross Fund. The fourth grade won the attendance award.

ST. JOSEPH ACADEMY STUDENTS START ANNUAL RETREAT

The students of St. Joseph Academy started their three day retreat on Wednesday, March 12th.

The annual retreat is the most highly prized activity at St. J. A. The girls await its announcement impatiently and welcome it most joyously. This year proved no exception especially when it was known that the Master of the Retreat was to be the Rev. Father Leo F. Fahey. Father Fahey, said in his opening talk to the girls on Wednesday morning "This feels like coming home again" and well might it feel so as Father Fahey is a native of Bay St. Louis, a former student of St. Joseph Academy, which he attended during the first period of his school years, and a life long friend and benefactor of the Academy, in which he later acted as teacher for several sessions.

The Retreat will begin with the Missa Recitata every morning at 8 o'clock in Our Lady of the Gulf Church. The instructions during the day will be held at the Academy with the exception of the last which will take place in the church and will be followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

The Retreat will close formally with Holy Hour, beginning at four Thursday afternoon at which time the Papal Blessing will also be given. There will be an informal get together of the Retreatants at the Academy immediately after the close of the Retreat.

CHICKS PLEASED WITH TRAINING FACILITIES

Coach Chatham not only likes the training site but the people and the town are also tops in his estimation.

At present there are 18 pitchers, 3 infielders, 5 outfielders and 4 catchers in camp.

The first exhibition game for Bay St. Louis will be Wednesday, March 19, when the Chicks meet the St. Paul team of the American Association.

On Sunday, March 23, Birmingham journeys to Bay St. Louis for a game. The Chicks will pull up stakes and leave for Memphis, April 1.

RED CROSS DRIVE CONTINUES

Joe Kern, friendly chairman of the Red Cross Fund Campaign, says collections are coming in and some returns have not yet been made to him. But stop, think and plan! There are only 15 more days in which to complete the $3356 quota for Hancock County, so don't let Joe Down. Let's give Picayune (they made their quota in one day) a close second. Let's make our by March 23. Shall we?

Just send it in. You don't have to wait for a collector or you may call the collector and ask her to come and get it. Contribute today and let Joe go fishing. Why prolong the campaign as if it hurt to make your contribution. Make it today. Close the campaign and say we did it on time and now we can concentrate on business. You have been fine. Just keep it up.

Rock Spring Footballers Hard At Work

With 38 hopeful aspirants reporting for spring practice, Coach Pete Burre and Brother Adalbert are really putting them through the paces. With only 7 days practice behind them, the boys are being drilled in all phases of fundamentals. They are blocking and running as hard as if they were getting ready for a game.

With such teams as McGill High of Mobile, Picayune and Catholic High of Baton Rouge on next year's schedule, the Rocks will need plenty of work to hold their own and come through with a winning season.

A TRIBUTE TO LESTER F. ALEXANDER

In the normal course such matters take, final action by the Army's Board of Review on the New Orleans Seaway will not be announced for some thirty or sixty days. But however that decision goes, this is the time to enter on the record of our port's development a notation of the debt that the entire Mississippi Valley will always owe to Lester Alexander. Over the course of more than two centuries, five or six inspired leaders have captained the unending battle against man and the elements to make New Orleans a world port. Bienville moved the capital of his new colony of Louisiana to this city from what is today the Mississippi Sound because he truly appraised the future importance of a junction between the world's mightiest river and the seven seas. Jacques Livaudais was first to solve the difficult navigational problems of bringing ocean-going vessels upstream across the shifting bars at the river's mouth. Thomas Jefferson accurately foresaw that without the Mississippi Valley and its gateway at New Orleans, the young United States could never become a mighty nation. George Eads devised and built the system of jetties which stabilized the harbor channels at the river's passage to the Gulf.

Working with Eads on this monumental project in the early 1900's, a young engineer, Lester Alexander, caught something of the vision and inspiration that animated his chief. Just as each of the other key figures in the port's development had projected his predecessor's plans farther into the future, enlarging them in recognition of the development that would make it imperative to increase their scope. Lester Alexander became the first to translate an abstract dream of supplementing the river's channel into a concrete and practical engineering plan for an artificial outlet to the sea. New Orleans could not be moved to tidewater; but tidewater could be brought to New Orleans.

To the attainment of this goal he devoted his large talents, amplified and enriched by the experience of his early service at the River's passes. If at times his persistence and single-mindedness irritated those who did not wholly agree with him, that was the sort of fault that is akin to virtue as a manifestation of determined enthusiasm. Moreover, in the long run he used the persuasive forces of logic and reason to enlist skeptics and convert opponents to his side. Up and down the Mississippi Valley the number and stature of those who joined him grew with the years, until leaders from North and East and West joined him in presenting the case to the Army's Engineer Board last week. Whether this Board now authorizes construction for the immediate future or further delays the day when draglines and bulldozers are sent into action, the one man who made the largest individual contribution toward the eventual consummation is Lester F. Alexander.

It is only fitting, therefore, that his service to the community be noted while his outstanding role in building its present and its future is still fresh in memory.—New Orleans Item, March 10, 1947.

Centennial Celebration Of The Brothers of The Sacred Heart

Plans for an elaborate centennial celebration in Mobile, Alabama, commemorating the one hundred years of service by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart in the United States, are being stepped up, according to Brother Peter, S. C., president of St. Stanislaus which has been conducted by the Brothers since 1853.

The Institute of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart was founded at Lyons, France in 1821 by the saintly Abbe Andre Coindre. Conditions in France were very bad at the time as it was a period following almost fifty years of fighting. Since the beginning of the French Revolution and on through the wars of Napoleon, France had but little rest and not enough time for education. Religion had sunk to a low ebb during these times, with the clergy banned and able to administer the sacraments only at the risk of their lives.

Many priests had banded together in semi-religious societies for mutual encouragement and aid, and carried on their labors in this manner. Abbe Coindre, who had been ordained in 1812, was shortly afterwards invited to join the Society of the Charitoux. Most of his work was carried on in Lyons. He very soon saw the need of help in his zealous work of teaching religion to the children of the many extremely poor people of Lyons, made destitute by years of war.

The saintly Abbe soon gathered a handful of energetic young men as his aides in the teaching of catechism, and at their request, in 1821 formed them into a religious order under the title of the Brothers of the Sacred Hearts of Jesus and Mary, which title was later abbreviated to the Brothers of the Sacred Heart. One of the early members, Brother Polycarp, soon showed his superior qualities, and in 1841 he became the first Superior General of the Order. Abbe Andre Coindre and in turn, his brother, Abbe Vincent Coindre having governed until that year.

When Brother Polycarp took command of the order 20 years after its founding there were only 60 Brothers and 12 schools and orphanages. At his death in 1859 there were over four hundred Brothers and 70 establishments in France and a growing number of Brothers in the United States.

In 1846 Bishop Michael Portier of Mobile, Alabama, while in France to obtain aid for his missionary diocese, asked Brother Polycarp for five Brothers to take care of the orphans of his diocese. To this request Brother Polycarp readily agreed, and in his letter asking for volunteers, his name headed the list. His Council refused to allow him to go. Five were chosen. These Brothers sailed from Le Havre in September, 1846, and after an extremely tedious voyage, they landed in Mobile in January, 1847. During these one hundred years, the work of the Brothers has spread from the shores of Mobile Bay to the banks of the St. Lawrence, and the seed in the vineyard of the Sacred Heart has grown from five missionaries to over two thousand in this country and Canada, with seven foreign missions supplied from these two countries.

As this present year commemorates the centennial of their arrival in Mobile, this religious celebration is being planned to take place in that city.

Bishops from the dioceses in which the Brothers have schools have been invited. Of these His Excellency, the Most Reverend Joseph F. Rummel, S. T. D., D. D., Archbishop of New Orleans; the Most Reverend T. J. Toolen, D. D., Bishop of Mobile; the Most Reverend S. D. Gerow, S. T. D., bishop of Natchez; and the Most Reverend Charles P. Greco, D. D., bishop of Alexandria, have signified their acceptance. The Most Reverend Archbishop will speak during the Pontifical High Mass, which will be celebrated by the Most Reverend Bishop Toolen, in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Mobile. Many Monsignors, priests and outstanding laymen, both Catholic and non-Catholic, all of whom are either friends of the Brothers and their work, or former pupils, will be present.

Mississippi Education Assn. To Convene in Jackson

Jackson, Mississippi, March 8 (Special)—The Sixty First Annual Convention of the Mississippi Education Association will convene in Jackson in the Edwards Hotel on March 20, 21 and 22, according to State Superintendent J. M. Tubb. This is the most important gathering of school leaders for the year. Mr. Tubb states that several thousands of Mississippi teachers will attend this convention.

The general theme of the convention for this year is: "Education—A Major Enterprise." A great amount of concern has been shown in our state and nation during the past few years over the shortage of fully qualified teachers. The public recognizes in a new way that education and good teaching go hand in hand and truly constitute a major enterprise.

Mr. Tubb feels that the teachers of Mississippi will obtain great good from attending the three-day convention this year. He states that good programs have been arranged and that the fellowship, afforded by the convention, as well as the good programs will be of inestimable value to the teachers. Mr. Tubb states that attendance upon great meetings of this nature always provides social and professional stimulation of a high order. Teachers can go back to their classrooms and do better job of teaching after attending the convention.

By the time this is in print, the extraordinary session of the Legislature will be underway in Jackson, beginning March 4th. Three new members will take part in the session—H. L. In an extraordinary session only such matters as are set out in the Governor's proclamation convening the body or such matters as he may bring to the attention of the law-makers during their session may be enacted into law. Resolutions or motions other than proposed laws are open to discussion and action. Adjournment of an extraordinary session rests entirely with the law-makers.

HIGHWAY CONTRACTS

The State Highway Commission last week approved contracts on fourteen highway and bridge-building projects. This is probably the largest award of contracts under the new sixty million dollar road building program. All proposed contracts were accepted except two which will be given further consideration. All were accepted subject to the approval of the Public Roads Administration. The contracts approved last week involve an expenditure of $2,699,622.90 and will give employment to a considerable number of people.

Main Street is One up on Broadway

Our Main Street isn't Broadway. But for cleanliness and neatness, it has Broadway lashed to the mast! (I'm sticking my neck out, so far as those city people go, but it sure is the truth.)

Our sidewalks all along Main Street are swept clean each morning; the store fronts are kept neatly painted; the windows are shiny bright; and there's grass and flowers every place that grass and flowers can be made to grow!

Once when "Butch" Snyder let the awning of his store get torn and dirty, folks up and down the street just gently nudged him till he went out and got it repaired and cleaned. That's how it works around this town of ours.

From where I sit, it's a little like the Brewers' program of Self-Regulation. They want all taverns selling beer to be a credit to the city—neat and orderly and up to scratch. And when any tavern lags behind, they nudge it back to standard. Works too!

Comments From County Agricultural Office

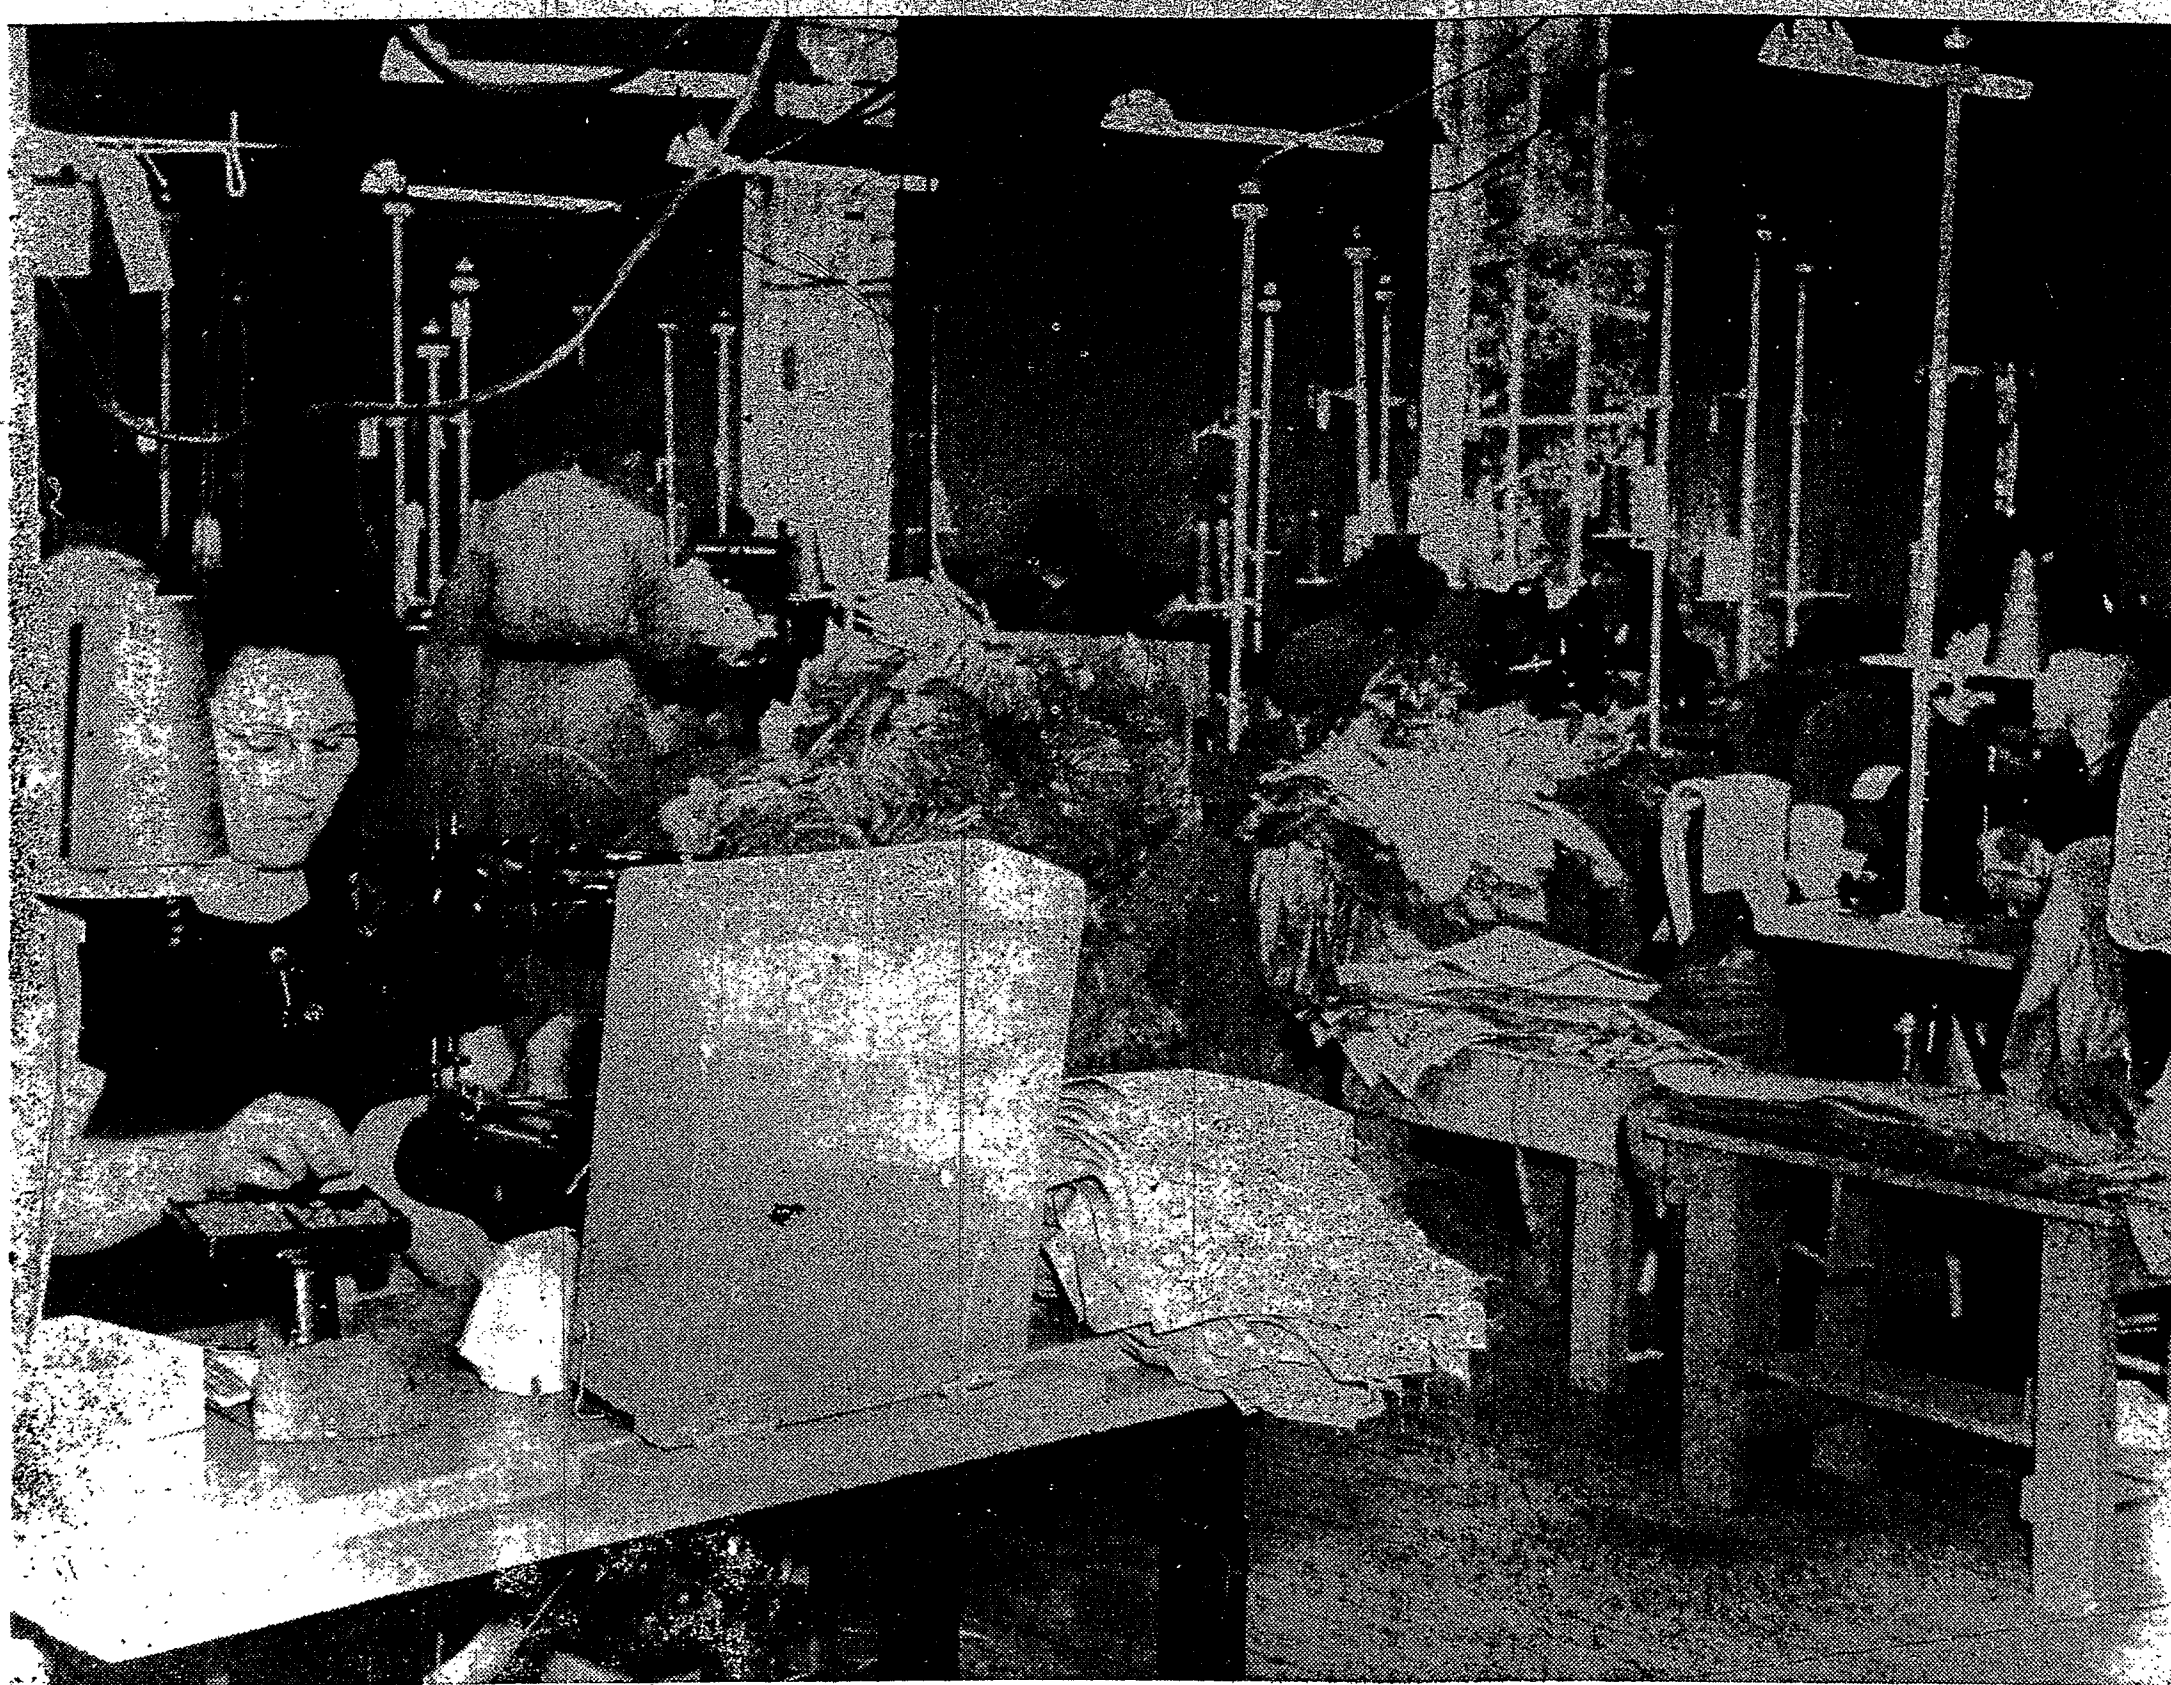

Miss Marjorie Elzey, Home Management Supervisor who has been in this county working out of the Farmers Home Administration office for the past eighteen months has been transferred to the Pearl River County office at Poplarville.

It is almost time to begin turning under winter cover crops. In some cases, it has been noted in traveling over the county that oats, Austrian winter peas and Vetch have been over grazed and there is nothing to be turned under. Farmers should take their livestock off of these crops and give them a chance to come out so as to have a reasonable green manure crop to turn under. Unless this is done these crops will be of little value as a soil building crop. Spot checks are to be made on these crops by this office and in places where over grazing is found there will be no payment for seeding winter cover crops by the Government. As soon as winter cover crops are turned under, farmers should make a report to this office.

This office is still taking orders for lime, and Basic Slag. Farmers interested in getting this material should place their orders now. Slag is available for use under summer legumes seeded alone and permanent pasture only. The legumes may be out for hay if desired. Lime can be applied to any crop desired.

DEMONSTRATION OFFICES
March 3-9 was national 4-H Club Emphasis Week and every county in every state in the Union has concentrated on 4-H club work for the week. Hancock County has had here for the week E. E. Dean, Hattiesburg, Agricultural Extension Agent who has been working with Miss Ann Lois May, Home Demonstration Agent and C. C. Stone, County Farm Agent. They have visited all schools where 4-H clubs are organized and Mr. Dean has talked to the clubs elucidating the importance of Head, Heart, Hand and Health in the performing of the work set for boys and girls which will make of them useful citizens. He stressed the value of being of help to other people. He also brought the value of what he termed Education in action and compared the value of working out a project to what you read in a text book. Mr. Dean said that our youth is our future and that most of them come up from the farm. Miss May gave out the certificates to the girls who had finished last year's project.

United States has 1,700,000 combined boys and girls 4-H clubs and Mississippi has 100,320 ranking 3rd in the United States. Alabama ranks first with 115,000 and Texas second with 100,800. Hancock County has seven clubs with a membership of approximately 300.

Schools visited this week were Kiln, Leetown, Catahoula, Waveland, Logtown and Aaron Academy. Great work has been done through these clubs in this county and all boys and girls in the club seem alert and active and some have received state and national recognition.

Veterans' News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Does the name "United States Government Life (converted) Insurance" include "National Service Life Insurance?"

A. No. "United States Government Life Insurance" is insurance issued to World War I veterans or to persons who applied for same while in active service before October 8, 1940.

"National Service Life Insurance" is insurance provided for World War II veterans. Each is sometimes referred to as "Government Insurance" and each is administered by Veterans Administration under authority granted by Acts of Congress.

Q. How many offices does the Veterans Administration have and where are they located?

A. The Veterans Administration has a central office in Washington, D. C., and 13 branch offices located in strategic centers of population. In addition it has one or more regional office field stations or sub-stations in each state. Some of these are larger and have wider activities than others but all are charged with the duty of assisting veterans and their dependents.

Q. What identification data should I give in writing about my claim for benefits administered by the Veterans Administration?

A. If you are making application you should give your full name, grade, organization, serial number, date of entrance into service, date of discharge, and date and place of birth.

After the claim is filed it will be assigned a claim number which should be mentioned in all subsequent communications.

The estimated number of National Service Life Insurance policies in force with Veterans Administration on Dec. 31, 1946, was around 5,000,000 term and over 600,000 permanent plan policies.
